According to legend, Pheidippides collapsed and died after delivering the message, symbolizing the ultimate sacrifice and endurance.

The modern marathon was inspired by this story and was introduced as an Olympic event in 1896 during the Athens Games. The standard distance was set at 26.2 miles (or 42.195 kilometers) during the 1908 London Olympics, aligning with the length of the royal family's viewing box at Windsor Castle, which influenced the final course measurement.

The Evolution of the Race
